What Clients Have to Say About SCORE

“Talking with successful business people at SCORE helped build my confidence, but it also helped me look at challenges realistically. They help you understand what it takes to be a successful business owner. If you're willing to commit yourself to starting a business, they'll provide all the encouragement and assistance you need.”

TODD GRAVES, OWNER, RAISING CANE'S RESTAURANT CHAIN

“We went to SCORE seminars on start-ups, marketing and business plans. My SCORE mentors gave me a realistic look at what's needed. They were very helpful—and continue to be.”

JOHN WALTON, CO-OWNER, O.K. GOLF

“I liked the idea of working with experienced executives who understand what small business is all about. They have a track record, but they had to start somewhere too.”

YOUNGSONG MARTIN, FOUNDER, WILDFLOWER LINEN

“My SCORE mentor, John, helped me realize I needed more capital to streamline my pottery business and become more efficient. He even helped me arrange funding. I was able to buy a second kiln, which meant producing more, which meant I could hire someone else. John also encouraged me to expand our market. Sales have gone up every year and we had 46 percent growth last year.”

Frequently Asked Questions about SCORE

Q: What is SCORE?

A: Since 1964, SCORE has been the premier small business mentoring service in the U.S. The nonprofit association has 300+ chapters nationwide and more than 11,000 working and retired business experts who volunteer their time, talents and expertise to help small business entrepreneurs succeed in starting and growing their businesses.

Q: How does SCORE help small businesses?

A: SCORE volunteers provide free mentoring to small business entrepreneurs on a wide range of business topics—everything from how to write a business plan, how to arrange funding and manage cash flow, to how to develop effective marketing and Web-based retailing. Business owners can access SCORE via free, ongoing face-to-face mentoring sessions, low-cost local workshops and online expert resources, including free online workshops, business tools and templates, and mentoring via email.

Q: Are SCORE's services free?

A: The majority of SCORE's services are free. As a community service, SCORE provides free, ongoing one-on-one business mentoring by experienced volunteer professionals and provides online resources—including free online workshops and information on a broad array of business topics. SCORE also provides local workshops for a small fee.

Q: What is SCORE's relationship with the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA)?

A: SCORE operates as a resource partner with the SBA, providing entrepreneurs with ongoing mentoring and information that is vital to their success. This includes mentoring on financial options and loans, business planning, marketing strategies, product development—and more.

Q: Who are SCORE's mentors?

A: SCORE's more than 11,000 volunteer experts come from all business areas and have substantial skills. Some have served as executives of Fortune 500 companies. Some have been entrepreneurs and small business owners. Others have valuable experience in universities, government or the military. What they all have in common is a willingness to share their expertise, experience and business savvy to help others succeed.

Q: What resources does SCORE offer online?

A: SCORE provides a wide array of free online expert resources and tools at its web site, www.score.org. Hundreds of online guides (in English and Spanish) provide practical, proven tips on small business topics. There are templates for business plans, financial projections, marketing plans and funding sources, among others. Information is tailored to women, veterans, minorities and young entrepreneurs. Small business entrepreneurs also can sharpen their business skills through SCORE's free online workshops on building a business plan, setting prices, arranging loans, developing competitor and market analysis—and more. At Online Mentoring, seasoned business mentors provide answers to entrepreneurs' questions within 48 hours.

Q: How can entrepreneurs contact SCORE for business mentoring?

A: Entrepreneurs and small business owners can visit www.score.org to locate the nearest SCORE office or identify an online mentor specializing in their industry. They also can call 1-800-634-0245 to get the phone number of their local SCORE office.
